

MON 05.03.04 TUES WED THURS FRI

Hell's Belles

SEND to a FRIEND

"Nice top. Is that Banana?"

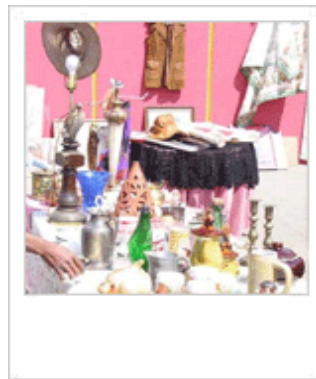

Yeah, we know the feeling. We'd all love to cultivate a distinctive, one-of-a-kind style. But shopping outside the mainstream can be a little scary for first-timers.

A good place to start: the Hell's Kitchen Flea Market. Fresh off its debut season, the diverse post is full of original goods, on-pavement fashion shows, and a free shuttle bus to Chelsea's Annex market. Every Saturday and Sunday vendors of all types flank the sides of a closed-off city block by Port Authority, hawking everything from vintage clothing to antique toasters. Our favorite is the Special Flavas pocketed bandana-print undergarments, but you're sure to find something that suits your taste no matter what your personal style.

So you can finally start to make that much-needed transition from Banana top to top banana.

Hell's Kitchen Flea Market, West 39th Street, between Ninth and Tenth Avenues. Saturday and Sunday 10 a.m.-6 p.m.

Want more DailyCandy?
Sign up for your free e-mail.

Get a jump start on next weekend. Plan an outing with your pallies. Send them this e-mail.

Today in Everywhere:
The New Hotel

send to a friend

add to my archive

our privacy policy

HOME | DRINKS & FOOD | FUN | BEAUTY | ARTS & CULTURE | FASHION | SERVICE
MAKE DAILYCANDY MY HOME PAGE | CONTACT US | SUBSCRIBE | UNSUBSCRIBE | SETTINGS

© 2004 DailyCandy, Inc. All rights reserved.
Privacy Policy | Terms & Conditions
 Artwork created by Sujean